

Greetings,

I am writing to ask for your support in a professional development opportunity that builds a deeper understanding of how students learn to write. The Elevate! Academy has designed an in-depth, eleven module course that focuses on the Science of Writing, taught by literacy expert and practitioner, Holly Ehle. Within each module, I will be receiving over an hour of content, plus resources, and access to an exclusive online community. A lifetime individual license is $100, and if you are interested in supporting our entire staff with ways to improve our writing instruction, a lifetime school license is only $1,000. I appreciate your consideration for my professional growth and desire to improve student outcomes. You can learn more and register at elevateyourclassroom.com.

Sincerely,
